

EDUCATEDTRAVELER

GO LEARN IT WHERE IT'S STILL ALIVE.

The cold clay catches between your fingers, the wheel hums, and the old potter beside you says
nothing — just reaches over, slows your hands, and the wobble becomes a bowl.

EducatedTraveler is a living map and a community that show you where a real craft is still alive in the world, and introduce you to the masters, schools, and peers already gathered there.

A place, a person, your people.

THE 10-SECOND VERSION

It shows you where a real craft is still alive somewhere in the world, then walks you up to the master and the people already learning it. We connect; we sell nothing.

WHAT IT IS

Two simple things — a map, and a circle.

Two simple things. The Atlas is a hand-verified map of crafts laid over the real places they live, ranked by how strong the community is around each one, never by who pays — 99 crafts, 300+ places, 59 countries, 800+ schools, one best course chosen per craft, no prices and no checkout. The Circle is the community and newsletter: you tell us what pulls you, we keep you close, and we introduce you to those places, those masters, and one day to each other in real life. The homepage asks one question — what do you want to become?

WHY IT'S DIFFERENT

Others pair you alone with one artist; we put you in a circle chasing the same fire — the skill is just the doorway to the people and the place.

MasterClass and YouTube hand you a screen; we hand you the source and a master's correction in the moment. You can't learn a roll-tack from a video.

Travel apps sell you an afternoon and a memory; we show you where a craft is alive and walk you up to the people already there.

HOW IT WORKS

- 1 Open the Atlas and find where your craft is genuinely alive at the source, not the simulation — ranked by the community that gathers there, never by who paid.
- 2 Meet your people: the master who corrects your hands, the school we've vouched for, and the peers chasing the same thing.
- 3 Go learn it with your hands, at the source, and come home with something earned, not bought.

WHY YOU CAN TRUST IT

- Hand-verified, never fabricated — honesty is the whole product; we only send you somewhere we vouch for firsthand.
- Community-ranked, not pay-to-rank, so the strongest gathering wins the spot, not the biggest budget.
- One map across 99 crafts, 300+ destinations, 59 countries, 800+ verified schools, four worlds: Wellness, Adventure, Creative, Culinary.
- Founder-led and warm: Arnaud, a French Michelin-trained superyacht chef who has spent his life learning real skills at the source — cooking, sailing, freediving, wine, breathwork.
- We connect; we sell nothing. No prices, no checkout, no funnel — only people and places to introduce you to.

SAY THIS

THE 30-SECOND VERSION

You know that feeling when you finally do something real with your hands? EducatedTraveler is built for that. It's a hand-verified map of 99 crafts across 59 countries, ranked by the strength of the people who gather around each one, not by who pays. We point you to where the fire is still burning, and walk you up to the master and your people already there. A place, a person, your people. Skills last, tans fade.

THE INVITATION

If something in you is already leaning toward the fire, come stand by it with us. Open the Atlas at educatedtraveler.app, join the Circle, and tell us what pulls you — and we'll introduce you to a place, a person, and your people.

Why share it — You'd forward it to the friend who keeps saying they want to make something real with their hands but feels like they're doing it alone — it hands them both the doorway and the people.

A place, a person, your people. Skills last, tans fade.
